

Ana Carolina Argolo is a Director at the National Water and Sanitation Agency - ANA/Brazil. She has a geology graduate from the University of Brasília, with a postgraduate postgraduate degree in Environmental Management and Technologies from the University of São Paulo and in Environmental Geoprocessing from the University of Brasília. Previously she served as a Director at the Department of Sustainable Development in Mining of the Secretariat of Geology and Mining and Mineral Transformation at the Ministry of Mines and Energy. She holds great experience in environmental consulting, geological risk management and water availability in aquifers in the private sector.