Bristow Group – A Pragmatic Approach
How we get from launch to profitability

Bristow Group – A Pragmatic Approach

Bristow's AAM Advantage

- 75 years of helicopter operations, with mature safety management systems and a trusted track record
- Established relationships with regulatory authorities and operating licenses worldwide
- Experienced with operating in complex and harsh environments
- Diversified partnerships that allow us to be technology agnostic in fleet selection
- 800+ pilots in the workforce, providing a strong talent and career pipeline

Cargo Movement

Short Distance
Unpopulated or rural environment
Expanding to longer distances, higher density and more complex environments

Passenger Movement

Limited
Short Distance
Existing infrastructure
Expanding into increasingly complex operating environments

Regional Air Mobility

Longer Distances
Continued expansion of operational complexity
Introducing new infrastructure

Urban Air Mobility

Dense urban environments
Significant operational complexity
Vertiport infrastructure

As the global leader in vertical flight, we believe AAM represents a powerful opportunity to expand Bristow's service offerings and support the broader energy transition.
