BAND REPERTOIRE OF YESTERDAY, TODAY, AND OF ALL TIMES

The opportunity of resuming the process of publishing scores for band is a good reason for rejoicing at Funarte. In 1995 and in 2000, 14 titles from the series “Golden Repertoire of Brazilian Bands” were released; in 2004, Funarte released the series “Hymns of Brazil”, with two titles. Presently 20 new titles are being published, ten of which in a new series called “Brazilian Music for Band”, which includes high level arrangements of popular songs and some of the most praised classics of Brazilian popular music. The new series also highlights original works written specifically for bands by composers of various periods, and opens space for transcriptions from the Brazilian symphonic repertoire.

These editions follow the international norms for publishing and the standardization of music pieces for symphonic band, diversifying the supply of instrumental parts without losing sight of the most noteworthy characteristics of our bands, as well as making possible for small groups and bands, with reduced forces, to perform music using the same material. The process of publishing scores for band is a search of more dynamic ways to supply a market which is always eager for novelties and information – and, at the same time, a means of keeping the traditions of our country’s musical culture alive and in performance. Making this repertoire available and sharing information must be an ongoing and continuous task, so that it can produce good results. To this end, Funarte concentrates its efforts in producing and presenting the band repertoire of yesterday, today, and of all times.

ABOUT THE NEW EDITIONS

With these new series of editions, Funarte intends to expand the contemporary literature for bands in Brazil, so as to quantify it and qualify it, with especial emphasis on the use of the technical and stylistic patterns of each piece, with the necessary revisions and annotations in terms of articulations, dynamics, accents, nomenclature, tempo, rehearsal markings, abbreviations etc.

In order to allow that standards adopted by bands worldwide be applied, it was necessary to make adaptations to the original material - without, however, altering its melodic, harmonic, and rhythmic lines. Original orchestrations were maintained, with the addition of new information in the area of timbre, in order to take the most advantage of present-day instruments.

The standard pattern adopted was: piccolo, flute, oboe, bassoon, Eb clarinet, Bb clarinets (3 parts), Bb bass clarinet, quartet of saxophones (2 Eb altos, 1 or 2 Bb tenors, and Eb baritone), F horns (2 to 4 parts), Bb trumpets (3 parts), trombones (3 parts), baritone, tuba, contrabass (strings), timpani, mallets (xylophone/bells or glockenspiel), percussion (snare drum, crash cymbals, suspended cymbals, bass drum, agogô, rattle, tambourine, ganzá, triangle, reco-reco, drum, complete drums). In some works, particular instruments were suppressed, such as tenor sax 2 and timpani, when they were not part of the original instrumentation. Nevertheless, the director should note that the whole repertoire has its functionality guaranteed only with 1 flute, 1 Eb clarinet, 3 Bb clarinets, 1 Eb alto sax, 1 Bb tenor sax, 3 F horns or Eb saxhorns, 3 Bb trumpets, 3 trombones, 1 baritone, 1 tuba, and percussion (snare, cymbal and bass drum). Extra parts (not included in the instrumentation) will be printed for Eb saxhorns, Bb baritone in bass clef, as well as Bb and Eb tubas, in all the editions.

BRAZILIAN MUSIC FOR BAND SERIES

The repertoire of this series emphasizes arrangements of MPB and original compositions. Optional instruments, originally intended by the composer or arranger, are included in the score's instrumentation, but are not essential to the performance of the piece. It was sought to retain such instruments as options, thus allowing the performance of a particular musical passage in more than one way, so as to make possible its performance by symphonic and concert bands – and also to enhance its performance by traditional bands. To this end, indications of other instruments allow the conductor to have a mass of sound for performances in the open air, while maintaining an equilibrium of sound in concerts taking place in closed spaces.

COPACABANA

music by Carlos Alberto Braga (Braguinha) / lyrics de Alberto Ribeiro da Vinha

The American film director Wallace Downey, who produced several films in Brazil in the thirties and the forties, commissioned from João de Barro and Alberto Ribeiro a song which would musically identify a New York nightclub named Copacabana, a tribute to the famous beach in Rio. The composers produced Copacabana in the form of a samba-canção. The composition remained unpublished until 1946 and was recorded by the singer and pianist Dick Farney. With an arrangement by Radamés Gnattali, Copacabana became a huge hit with the public.

COPACABANA

music by Carlos Alberto Braga (Braguinha) / lyrics by Alberto Ribeiro da Vinha arrangement by José Carlos Ligiéro / revision by Marcelo Jardim

The introduction is divided into an Allegretto and a Moderato. Each one of these segments announces the main thematic motive of each one of the two parts of the song, both treated in stretto, a contrapuntal technique which consists of presenting successively the same motive – or only its initial cell – in different parts (voices) of the textural structure. The greater the degree of stretto between the consecutive reproductions of the motive, that is, the closer the multiple entries are to each other, the more they are superimposed. In this case, as it can be seen in the present arrangement, it is common for the motives which are followed by new entries – which come to dominate the attention of the listener – to become diluted in the background. This way, the motives are announced, but not really stated. In the andante moderato, a dense rhythmic-harmonic configuration, activated mostly by the undulating movement of the clarinets, played legato, supports the exposition of the first two phrases of the initial part (in the trumpets), these followed by a more syncopated presentation of the final phrases (measures 19-22), written with an accompaniment which is also syncopated. The second part of the song (almost a refrain) – its natural culminating point – is then surprisingly introduced with a drastic reduction of textural density, of orchestral complexity, accompanied by a notable diminution of the intensity of sound in the group, and the return of unsyncopated writing. Its interruption, in measure 20, thus reveals the expressive intention of delaying the arrival at the true culminating point of the piece. In samba médio (measure 30), the rhythmic motion characteristic to the genre is introduced, and no longer abandoned. This section, which goes until measure 53, becomes an extensive interlude (really, a new introduction) which leads to the complete presentation of the song (measures 54-101), in the characteristic style, followed by the coda. It is important to note the textural richness and complexity of the piece, which demands special attention to precision of articulation and definition of planes according to function.

CARLOS ALBERTO FERREIRA BRAGA – BRAGUINHA (1907–2006)

Braguinha was born in Rio de Janeiro on March 23, 1907. His father was the director of the Confiança textile factory. He had a typically happy middle-class childhood, and fell in love with music while still a student at the Colégio Batista. At this time he formed the musical ensemble Flor do Tempo (Flower of times) with Henrique Brito, Álvaro de Miranda Ribeiro and Almirante (Henrique Fróes), who would later become his brother-in-law, marrying his sister Ilka. Some time later, with the addition of the young Noel Rosa, the group came to be called the Bando de Tangarás (Band of Tangarás<sup>4</sup>). At this time Braguinha, who was studying architecture at the Escola Nacional de Belas Artes, adopted the pseudonym of João de Barro, an architectural bird, because his father was not happy to see the family name besmirched by involvement in popular music, looked down upon at the time. Since composing his first song, Vestido Encarnado (The Red Dress), at age sixteen, Braguinha was one of the most prolific composers of Brazilian popular music. In his long career he produced more than 400 titles, including compositions for which he produced both lyrics and music, various collaborations, translations and children's music. Among the most famous are Carinhoso, with Pixinguinha; Pastorinhas, with Noel Rosa; Deixa a lua sossegada and Touradas em Madrid, with Alberto Ribeiro; Cantoras do Rádio, with Lamartine Babo, Chiquita Bacana and the lyrics in Portuguese for Luzes da Ribalta [Limelight], by Charles Chaplin. He was also an active participant in the Brazilian cinema, as scriptwriter, composer of soundtracks and dubber for cartoons by Walt Disney.

JOSÉ CARLOS LIGIÉRO (1930)

Conductor, composer and arranger, José Carlos Ligiéro was born in Comendador Venâncio, Itaperuna. He began his musical studies at the age of 11, and later finished his training in Rio de Janeiro. He founded the Sociedade Imperial Itaperunense (Itaperuna's Imperial Society) and created chorales in Itaperuna, Muriaé, Bom Jesus de Itabapoana, and other medium cities. His almost five hundred compositions include classical, sacred, popular, choral, and instrumental pieces. In addition to his vast musical production, he identified, collected, transcribed, and orchestrated songs which would have been lost in the sands of time had it not been for his care in collecting and publicizing them. In March 2004, he was awarded the Golfinho de Ouro prize, in the category of Preservation of Cultural Patrimony. His arrangements can be found throughout Brazil, countless of them made by the request of important conductors. The arrangement of Copacabana was awarded a prize in Switzerland, and performed by the Banda de Música do Colégio Salesiano Santa Rosa de Niterói (Santa Rosa School Band).

ALBERTO RIBEIRO DA VINHA (1902–1971)

Composer, guitarist and singer, Alberto Ribeiro was born in the neighborhood of Cidade Nova and raised in Estácio, the cradle of samba. An assiduous presence in Café Nice and Café Suíço, he was one of the great composers of Brazilian popular music for Carnaval. He had a celebrated partnership with João de Barro (Braguinha), who he met in 1935 and became one of his closest friends, to the point of being best man on the wedding of the latter's daughter, Maria Cecília. He was also a partner of Nássara, Alcyr Pires Vermelho, Antônio Almeida, Radamés Gnattali and José Maria de Abreu. He married in 1926 and had one son. In 1931, he graduated with a degree in Medicine, specializing in homeopathy. He dedicated a large part of his life to the rights of composers, and was one of the founders of the ABCA (Associação Brasileira de Compositores e Autores), the Brazilian Composers and Authors Association, which gave rise to the UBC (União Brasileira dos Compositores), the Brazilian Union of Composers, which he presided over for 10 years. During the Vargas dictatorship he was arrested several times, due to his compositions of a political nature. He practiced medicine in a humanitarian way, self-abnegatingly and generously. In the final sixties, he recorded his oral history for the Museu da Imagem e do Som do Rio de Janeiro (MIS), the Brazilian Museum of Image and Sound, shortly before his death.

COPACABANA

music by Carlos Alberto Braga (Braguinha) lyrics by Alberto Ribeiro da Vinha

Existem praias tão lindas cheias de luz...
Nenhum tem o encanto que tu possuis
Tuas areias...
Teu céu tão lindo...
Tuas sereias
Sempre sorrindo...

Copacabana, princesinha do mar,
Pelas manhãs tu és a vida a cantar...
E, à tardinha, o sol poente
Deixa sempre uma saudade na gente...

Copacabana, o mar eterno cantor
Ao te beijar, ficou perdido de amor
E hoje vivo a murmurar
Só a ti, Copacabana, eu hei de amar

*There are beaches, so beautiful, filled with light
None have the enchantment that you do
Your sands, your sky, so beautiful
Your mermaids, always smiling...*

*Copacabana, princess of the sea,
In the mornings you are life waiting to be sung
And, in the afternoon, the setting sun
Always leaves us with longing...*

*Copacabana, the sea, eternal singer,
In kissing you, fell madly in love
And today I live only to murmur,
That I will love only you, Copacabana*
